Overview

The Jiri 2 Everest Base Camp Trek is one of our favourite treks and we'd be delighted to help you explore this impressive region in Nepal.

The Jiri to Lukla Trek is classic trek in the Everest region of Nepal. The route is full of fascinating sights and cultural interest. After a few days on the trail, you'll realise why the trek is such a classic route. This trek will begin with low elevation (2190m) spectacular drive to Bandar via Jiri. Along the route, you will experience and overview superb terraced hillsides, riverbanks bursting with life, dense rhododendron forests, plentiful birdlife, picture postcard villages, magical monasteries and sweeping vistas from high passes. It is the traditional route followed by the British Everest Expedition in 1953, long before the airport in Lukla was built. It also allows a more gradual acclimation as this trek starts from lower altitude.

Bhandar, the starting point of this trek is reached after 8-9 hour bus drive from Kathmandu. From here 7 days of trek will bring us Phakding via crossing Lukla. And from where we follow the regular trail up to Everest base camp. It leads us to the foot of Everest, known as Sagarmatha in Nepali and Chomolungma (Mother Goddess of the World) in Tibetan & Sherpa, the highest mountain in the world. The trail is very well developed with comfortable tea houses along the way. We make our way through the Solukhumbu region slowly up the valley, tracing the path of the successful British 1953 expedition all the way to the Everest base camp. We follow the valley to Namche Bazar through the more moderate climate zone and, after slowly acclimatizing to the altitude, continue along the trail where you can observe the quick succession of vegetation zones until you reach the harsh environment at higher altitude. Despite the popularity, the Everest Base Camp trek is still an adventure.

You will see some of the most impressive mountains along the way like Cholatse and – the favourite of many visitors – Ama Dablam. If you feel up to it, we guide you up Kala Pathar (5,554m) which offers a magnificent panorama of Everest, Lhotse, Cho Oyu, Pumori, Nuptse and many more famous mountains as well as the Khumbu glacier. An unforgettable experience, especially at sunrise. Trekkers can also learn and observe the traditions, customs and rituals of the Sherpa.

This trek is very flexible and can be adjusted to your requirements. Teahouse or camping, throw in some challenging passes, explore the Gokyo Lake system – contact us for suggestions and we'll help you plan your Everest adventure. With 13 years of experience, you are in safe hands. Everest Base Camp Trek standard itinerary is 15 days if we take flight direct from Kathmandu to Lukla or Everest Base Camp Helicopter Tour-3hr 30min or Everest Mountain Flight-1hr or Everest Panorama Trek or Gokyo, Cho La & Everest also available.

With Incredible Himalayan Sherpa Adventure, you'll not only be able to enjoy this unique landscape but you'll also have the chance to observe the traditions and rituals of the local Sherpa people. We put great emphasis on authentic experiences and our professional local guides will introduce you to their culture.

All our treks are often set-aside as non-public journeys - no massive, impersonal teams however tiny, individual experiences. Let Incredible Himalayan Sherpa Adventure take you on your very own adventure trek to Mount Everest.

Day 13: Trek to Phortse (3810m/12500 ft.), 5-6hr walk

From here we short climb up and cross the Sagarmatha National Park, further trail is quite scenic on gentle flat and not so far walk, the trail to the Phortse climbs up and is then narrow beside a towering rock face. The normal path contours around a bluff and steadily gains height to a large white stupa on the skyline and appears closer than it is Yaks often graze here. The trek offer us stupendous views of Ama Dablam and the hidden Hongu valley peaks and Kangtega. From the stupa part of the route is somewhat frustrating. The village of Phortse can be clearly see just across the valley. From here we descend a long way to the Dudh Koshi River. The route is pleasant through tress down to the teahouse of Phortse Tenga. From here we continue down, passing a camp/lodge in the forest, to wooden bridge across the river and from here finally we short steep climb

Day 14: Trek to Dingboche (4410m/14468 ft.), 6-7hr walk

From here we climbing up the hillside, taking any zigzag path upwards upper part of Phortse near the monastery. The trail to Pangboche is truly spectacular. The trek offer us superb views not see on the main route from the Namche to the Pangboche. The trail goes up and downs, with Thamserkhu and Kangtega visible initially. As it rounds a bluff, Ama Dablam is seen in all its grandeur. Continuing around, the trail enters a small gully. The path zigzags up briefly but steeply; take it steadily and we will be rewarded with superb views at the chest. Further short walk bring us to Pangboche, where we can extend our trip to Ama DBC. From here we climb up through large tress near the teahouse. This climbs briefly, then drops and contours for 15mins. The village of Somare (1010m) and Osrho are a short climb. We walk fairly steep climb to reach Dingboche. Finally, the path crests a small ridges and we see the village of our destination 4410m.

Day 17: Trek to Gorak Shep (5140m/ 16863.52 ft.) & after hike to planet's tallest pillar Mount Everest Base Camp (5363m/17595ft.) then retrace steps to Gorak Shep(5140m/ 16863.52 ft.), 5-6hr walk

Initial walk begins with gentle climb after an hour so there is the first steep but shorter climb up on to more moraines. This is the snout detritus of the receding Changri Nup and Changri Shar glacier that flow from the northern flanks of Pumori as well as the peaks of Changri and Chumbu. Further trail is underfoot with large boulders and irregular stones. Crossing this moraine areas is tiring and the wind is often icy. Further short walk brings us to Gorak Shep. After lunch we hike to feet of planet's tallest mountain Mt. Everest. The hike begins with winds and ducks around boulders, rocky clumps and the huge moraine of the Khumbu Glacier to Everest Base camp. With tremendous ice spires and cathedral-like blocks of ice, the setting has drama of its own. The ice is quite the most astonishing gateway to any mountain in the Himalaya, an almost intoxicating highway to the sky. The hike offers us outstanding close-up views of Khumbu Ice Fall, Lhotse, Nuptse and the mountains separating Nepal from Tibet, including Pumori, Marine rocks. After finish overview of views we retrace our steps to Gorak Shep.

[Included meals: Breakfast+Lunch+Dinner]

Day 18: Climb Kala Pattar(Black Rock) (5545m/18192.26ft.) for 360 degree panoramic Himalayan peaks, valleys and diversity landscapes including views of Mt. Everest's and surrounding peaks after retrace steps to Gorak Shep, receive breakfast and trek continue to Pheriche (3810m/12500 ft.),3hr+30min+5-6hr walk

From here we cross the dried-up lake and start climbing steeply up and the lower ridge of Kala Patthar. Everest soon appears and gives a great boost to the spirits. Hike to Kala Pattar is mind-blowing and from the spot offers us 360 degree panorama views of Mt. Everest, Nuptse, Lhotse, the great snake of the Khumbu Glacier tumbles and wriggles down, with Ama Dablam dominating the horizon, Makalu, Nuptse, beyond the peaks above Namche: Kangtega and Thamserkhu. A beautiful contorted, tangled know of spires and peaks attracts the eye to the west. Looking to the east, it is black rocky, south West of Face of Everest that grabs all the attention. After all the adrenalin charged climbing and the excited photo-snapping from heaven-sent Kala Pattar, Goraksheep is a few easy minutes down, well under an

Day 19: Trek to Namche Bazar (3440m/11286ft.), 8- 9hr walk

Once back on the main trail the route heads to lower Pangboche and from here the path contours above the river now far below the path. You will get opportunity to take various Mani Walls along here with a much photographed stupa/Chorten. After dropping to a bridge over the Imja Khola, the trail heads into wispy juniper forest. Further walking along a level patch of ground through the forest bring us to Debouche and gradually to Tengboche (3860m). Tengboche Monastery is Tibetan Buddhist monastery of the Sherpa community. From here we walk down into much depleted forest. The trail is dusty and descends fairly rapidly into thicker forests then steeply down to the river at funky Phunki Tenga (3250m). After crossing the river on a wide suspension bridge, the pat climbs relentlessly up. En route are the lodges and lunch stops of lower Teshinga. We again climb on and around to Sanasa (3700m), descend to cross a riverbed. Walking through forest we will soon reach Kyangjuma and Namche.

Supplementary time

The flight from Kathmandu to Lukla significantly reduces the journey time compared to the trek via Jiri (which we also offer). The flight is the shortest and most popular way of gaining access to the region but the mountain weather is notoriously unpredictable and sometimes even during the best part of the season, flights are delayed or postponed for one or more days. We can also arrange for a Helicopter charter from Kathmandu to Lukla instead but this adds significant extra cost. We highly recommend that you take potential delays into account and allow for some extra day in Kathmandu. You can use your extra time here in Nepal by doing many exciting activities like rafting, Chitwan jungle safari, Rock Climbing, Langtang Helicopter Tour, Mountain flights or simply enjoy the bustling streets of Kathmandu

Everest base camp and kala pattar from Jiri

Conor Crowley from Ireland and I went with Tsering's trekking company to fulfil an ambition to trek Everest Base Camp Trek from Jiri (with my sister). From the start of the booking process through the trek and post stay in Kathmandu I must say that Tsering was organised and attentive at all times, and very accommodating with payment structure. The guide on the trek Lama was very patient and worked the nightly accommodation based on our capabilities and we owe in no small measure our success to him. The trek is a difficult one needing persistence as well as fitness.

Before and after the trek in Kathmandu Tsering looked after my sister and myself very well with a guided tour and hospitality meal. I did have some flight issues and Tsering was on hand to help me, even though it was his day off. All in all a great trek and Kathmandu experience organised by Tsering and The Incredible Himalayan Sherpa Adventure.

Cheers,

Trip Related Information

Trekking Day

The day starts with a comfortable breakfast at the teahouse after getting the baggage ready (as porters often set off early). We tend to set-off just in time to enjoy the morning sun. At noon we stop for a lunch break and relax a bit before the final bit of trekking for the day. The afternoon sections tend to be shorter and we aim to arrive at the destination by 3pm. This leaves some time for local explorations or simply a game of cards at the lodge. Dinner is generally around 6.30PM at the lodge.

Trekking Guides

The trekking guide is in charge of the trek and responsible for looking after you. You can address the guide regarding all problems, concerns and questions. All our guides are professionally trained and will be happy to answer any questions or deal with any issues. Communication is usually not an issue but remember they are local guides and their English proficiency can sometimes be limited outside of trek-related topics.

Your luggage

Your backpack should contain everything you need during the day but keep it as light as possible. Examples: water, some warm clothing, your camera, sunscreen, etc. Note that luggage you hand the porters might not be available to you during the day as they sometimes set their own pace.

Money and Gratuity

It is best to bring a mixture of cash and traveller's checks in a major currency [some currencies are not convertible to NPR]. USD, GBP, CAD, EUR, and AUD are generally fine. Ensure you have also small denominations. As a guideline for baseline spending money we suggest USD 10 - 15 per meal in Kathmandu (if you drink or smoke or plan some major shopping this could be higher). You should exchange enough money into Nepalese Rupees to last the entire time of your trek BEFORE leaving Kathmandu. There are no exchange facilities in the villages along the trail but plenty of money changers in KTM. Gratuity is, of course, voluntary but tips are not included in the trip price.

Insurance

while you do trips through Incredible Himalayan Sherpa Adventure, you must submit copy of your insurance certificate and it is excluded in the trip price. Your insurance policy must coverage accidents, medical expenses, emergency evacuation including helicopter rescue and then personal liability. At the time of you do Insurance you should read the policy carefully whether your requirements are included or not. Incredible Himalayan Sherpa also advocated your Insurance policy coverage cancellation curtailment, loss of luggage and personal effects. If you have must proof of the Insurance receipt, you will do initiative otherwise you can't get any compensation. Make sure the insurance is valid at an altitude of >5000m.

Preparation and Health Issues

Trekking in the Himalayas, especially at altitude, is more challenging than some leisurely walking at home. Keep in mind: Altitude affects everyone differently. Regardless of age or fitness, some preparation before you arrive is essential. We suggest some regular exercise. Feel free to contact us if you need some specific advice of how to prepare. There are no specific health requirements but as this trek reaches altitudes above 5000m, you should be generally healthy. While serious problems are rare, it makes sense to come prepared. Please consult your doctor and check your national health authority for up-to-date information regarding vaccinations, high altitude medication and medications for any foreseeable illnesses whilst trekking in Nepal – especially considering the remoteness of some parts of the trek. Be aware that some drugs have side effects at altitude. Please discuss this carefully with your doctor. There is a small health post for emergency treatment with limited equipment in Jomsom but close-by treatment options are often very limited or completely absent. In a serious emergency, helicopter evacuation might be the only possibility. A personal First Aid kit and sufficient quantities of any personal medical requirements (including a spare pair of glasses) are highly recommended.

Altitude Issues

AMS (acute mountain sickness) is a serious condition. It can affect anyone, regardless of age, fitness or previous experience. It usually occurs above 3000m and the probability of symptoms and their severity increases with altitude. It can present with a variety of symptoms caused by the body's incomplete adjustment to altitude. Symptoms can include headaches, sleeplessness, dizziness, nausea, breathing difficulties and swelling of extremities and tissue. If two or more symptoms occur, an immediate descend might be required. A quick descend (of about 300m vertical distance) typically resolves the issues. The body can then complete the acclimatization. Although our routes are carefully planned following international guidelines, you may experience some effects of the altitude; particularly in the beginning and at higher altitudes. Breathlessness and mild headaches are not uncommon and generally decrease as your body adjusts. Maintaining adequate fluid intake is essential. Your guide will encourage you to drink plenty of tea and water. Please refrain from drinking alcohol during any acclimatization phase as it can amplify the problem.

Please advise your guide if you feel more severe symptoms and inform the guide about any medication you are taking.

Climate and Temperature

At lower altitudes the climate is generally warm and mild. Above 3500m, the temperature can fluctuate a lot during the day but nights are often cold (below freezing). Above 4,100m a colder climate prevails comparable to the higher elevations of the Alps. The weather can fluctuate strongly and unexpectedly. Always be prepared for a change in conditions and note that if severe or dangerous weather conditions occur your guide's decision on any course of action is final.

Nepal Visas

You need visa for Nepal, which can be obtained in advance or on entry. If you wish to apply before departure the current visa cost is £20 for a 15 day visa and £35 for a 30 day visa for UK passport holders. The current cost of a visa on arrival is US$25 for 15 days, US$40 for 30 days or if extending your stay $100 for 90 days. All are multiple entry. The visa on arrival fee can be paid for in cash in US Dollars, Pounds Sterling or Euros. You will also need a passport photo. Application forms are available in the immigration hall (or for electronic passports there are visa registration machines which, after inserting your passport, automatically fill out a form for you). You must firstly join the queue to pay the visa fee, and then go to the relevant immigration desk to obtain your 15, 30 or 90 day visa stamp. There can be long queues for visas on arrival.
